

CALL FOR PAPERS, 12TH ANNUAL MACRO CONFERENCE

Dear All

As you know, the Macro Conference has been held once a year since 1999. The 12th Macro Conference will be held in Tokyo (at the Graduate School of International Corporate Strategy, Hitotsubashi University, located near Kanda) on Saturday-Sunday, December 18-19, 2010.

The financial sponsors are the Tokyo Center for Economic Research (TCER), the Research Center for Price Dynamics of Hitotsubashi University, Keio University, and the Global Center of Excellence (GCOE) Program of Osaka University, and the organizers are shown below.

If you are interested in submitting a paper to this conference, please send your paper by email as an attached file to the three organizers shown below by Friday, October 8, 2010 (Japan time). Full papers are preferred but a 10-page abstract is also acceptable. However, please send your full paper to the three organizers and to the designated discussant by Friday, November 26, 2010.

Also, please suggest two individuals as designated discussants, but it is not necessary to contact them in advance.

There will be no particular topic for this conference, and any macroeconomics-related paper will be welcome, whether it is theoretical or empirical and whether it is about Japan or about another country. However, we will give priority to papers that provide new insights regarding recent trends in the world and Japanese economies.

We will inform you of our decision by Friday, November 19, 2010.

We will pay the travel and lodging expenses of all paper presenters, designated discussants, and chairpersons. However, we will not, in general, be able to pay for the travel expenses of those coming from abroad.

We are looking forward to receiving many interesting submissions.

With best wishes,

Masaya Sakuragawa (Keio University) masaya22@gmail.com
